The drivers were all PhDs or some other professional type, in a state of semi retirement driving cabs and educating the masses on the horrors of racism in the Indian empire.

Like most bacterial infections, prostatitis is usually treated with antibiotics.